

NLF x UFIT Proposal

Building NLF Into a Global Movement A Strategic Partnership Between NLF and UFIT

Executive Summary

Over the past year, NLF has demonstrated something remarkable.

With approximately 30 workshops, around 200 members, almost no marketing, and a small founding team, NLF has already proven that people genuinely resonate with its philosophy and experience.

This proposal is not about growing a workshop business.

It is about building an enduring movement.

The workshop is one expression of that movement—not the destination.

To achieve that, NLF and UFIT can form a long-term strategic partnership where each organization focuses on what it does best.

Shared Vision

We believe the future of NLF is not measured by the number of workshops it delivers.

It is measured by the number of communities that emerge because of it.

Our vision is:

| Freedom starts with freedom of movement.

A movement where people recover the freedom to move, express themselves honestly, and eventually help others do the same.

The long-term objective is to create a self-sustaining ecosystem where communities naturally form, develop leaders, and create new communities.

Core Principles

NLF remains the movement.

UFIT becomes the operating system.

Neither replaces the other.

Both become stronger together.

Responsibilities

NLF

NLF remains the guardian of the movement.

Responsibilities include:

- Philosophy and vision
- Curriculum and methodology
- Workshop design
- Coach education
- Facilitator certification
- Practice innovation
- Founder voice
- Teaching quality
- Community culture

The founder should increasingly spend time creating ideas, developing coaches and protecting the philosophy—not managing operations.

UFIT

UFIT exists to help practices become movements.

Its responsibility is to build the infrastructure that allows NLF to scale without placing increasing operational demands on the founder.

Responsibilities include:

Growth

- Marketing strategy
- Content distribution
- Lead generation
- Partnerships
- Corporate outreach
- Public relations

Community

- Member onboarding
- Community management
- Circle management
- Leader development systems
- Retention programs
- Practice challenges
- Integration journeys

Operations

- Workshop operations
- Registration
- Customer support
- CRM
- Analytics
- Reporting

- Standard operating procedures
- Hub launch playbooks

Technology

Over time UFIT will provide:

- Practice platform
 - Community platform
 - Progress tracking
 - Member profiles
 - Facilitator portal
 - Hub management
 - Learning platform
 - Certification platform
-

Growth Strategy

The objective is to transform NLF from a workshop company into a movement.

Current:

Person → Workshop → Transformation

Future:

Content → Practice → Community → Workshop → Circle → Leader → New Circle
→ New Hub

Every workshop should produce not only transformed members but also future supporters, facilitators and community leaders.

Community Architecture

Movement

↓

Hub

Circle

Practice

Workshop

The Hub becomes the local operating organization.

Each Hub supports multiple Circles.

Each Circle gathers regularly to practice together.

Workshops become milestones within a much longer journey.

Leadership Path

Every member should see a path to greater responsibility.

Explorer

Practitioner

Supporter

Circle Host

Facilitator

Workshop Coach

Hub Leader

Mentor

Leadership is cultivated, not recruited.

Revenue Model

One-time revenue

- Workshops
- Retreats
- Corporate programs
- Coach education

Recurring revenue

- Circle memberships
- NLF memberships
- Hub affiliations
- Certification renewals
- Facilitator development
- Digital memberships

Long term, recurring relationships become the foundation of financial sustainability.

Three-Year Objectives

Year One

Build systems.

Document operations.

Develop content.

Strengthen community.

Launch the first Hubs.

Year Two

Expand nationally.

Develop facilitators.

Launch affiliated Hubs.

Standardize operations.

Grow recurring memberships.

Year Three

Operate through leaders rather than founders.

Expand internationally.

Launch multilingual curriculum.

Develop strategic partnerships.

Prepare the movement for global growth.

Commercial Partnership

The intention is to build a partnership based on long-term value rather than maximizing short-term revenue.

Proposed structure:

Phase 1 (12 Months)

UFIT becomes NLF's exclusive Growth & Operations Partner.

UFIT is responsible for:

- Growth
- Community
- Operations

- Technology roadmap
- Partnerships
- Digital infrastructure

Commercial terms:

- 15% commission on workshops where UFIT is responsible for sales and operational execution.
 - Agreed monthly operating retainer as responsibilities expand.
 - Quarterly strategic review of growth metrics and partnership performance.
-

Phase 2

As UFIT delivers increasing value, the partnership expands to include:

- Membership platform
- Sponsor management
- Corporate programs
- Digital products
- Certification systems
- Community subscriptions

Revenue sharing is defined per business line rather than a single percentage across the entire organization.

Strategic Rights

To justify long-term investment, UFIT requests:

- Exclusive Growth & Operations Partnership for an agreed term.
- Exclusive rights to build and operate NLF's digital infrastructure.
- Right of first proposal for future technology, community and platform initiatives.
- Joint planning of future digital products and operating systems.

NLF retains ownership of:

- Brand
- Philosophy
- Curriculum
- Intellectual property
- Teaching methodology
- Certification standards

UFIT retains ownership of:

- Operating systems
 - Community infrastructure
 - Technology platform
 - Growth methodologies
 - Software and operational playbooks
-

Success

Success is not measured by the number of workshops.

Success is measured by whether NLF can continue growing even when Travis is no longer personally involved in every operational decision.

The ultimate goal is a movement that becomes stronger because of the systems supporting it—not despite them.

NLF inspires people.

UFIT enables scale.

Together they create something that neither organization could achieve alone.